TATUM BROWN CUSTOM HOMES

Classic Elegance

Our trademark: We create homes that are not only elegant and have superior craftsmanship, but also livable houses. As a family business, we are all involved in the design process and we each bring our own perspective to what we'd like to see throughout each new home we create. Our team spends a lot of time together brainstorming ideas that will translate into a great house. We don't have a specific formula; we just start from scratch on each one, and it's that same care and individual attention that is evident in the finished product.

We specialize in... Building signature homes developed around old-world, Southern European influences that include a variety of Mediterranean, French Country, Spanish, and Italian architecture. Through research and the use of historical references, we use architectural elements that develop lines of sight for spectacular views and opportunities for light-filled living environments.

Who we are: Our unique team combines a passion for creating a new look of comfortable elegance and more than 50 years of homebuilding experience. Focused on creativity, we deliver luxurious homes with superior craftsmanship.
