

TATUM BROWN CUSTOM HOMES

Founded five years ago, Tatum Brown Custom Homes is a boutique builder that specializes in designing and building homes that are specifically crafted for each customer's lifestyle and individual desires. The company's dynamic team combines their more than 50 years of homebuilding experience and passion for creating distinctive, innovative designs with comfortable elegance and meticulous attention to detail. From build-to-suit homes or speculative homes to remodels and restoration projects, Tatum Brown is dedicated to maintaining the integrity of every Dallas neighborhood that includes their homes.

Q What are some of the signature features that are found throughout your homes?

A Our homes are developed around old world, southern European influences, which include Mediterranean, French country, Spanish, and Italian architecture. Through careful research and historical references, Tatum Brown incorporates architectural features that accent the lines of sight for spectacular views and opportunities for light-filled living environments. Every employee works side by side with accountants, architects, and subcontractors to provide the best results for each client's creatively designed and individualized residence.

This beautiful English Tudor home is located on one of Highland Parks' most coveted blocks near Bradfield Elementary. Luxurious old-world finishes and detailed woodwork paired with the contemporary touches of Waterworks and a Viking appliance package and outstanding floorplans by Symmetry Architects are just a few features that make this Tatum Brown home abundant with high style and top quality amenities.

Construction recently finished on this Park Cities masterpiece that reflects the style of A. Hays Town, whose signature Creole architecture combined the best of the American South styles with Cajun, Spanish, and French Colonial influences. The home demands full attention upon first glance due to its double French doors, which span the front of the home and highlight the open, light-filled design by Symmetry Architects.
